Grand Knight's

Brothers,

Thank you for your confidence in me to allow me to be your Grand Knight for the coming fraternal year, 2009-2010. It has been my pleasure to serve you over the past several years in the various positions I have had. As you can surmise from the motto I have chosen, "recommitment" will be my mantra. Recommitment is the name of the game for the Knights of Columbus. As Knights we should recommit ourselves to the Church, our Community, our Council, our Family, and our Youth.

I pray in the coming fraternal year we are able to hear the call and can find in our hearts the time and energy to work diligently, tirelessly, and selflessly in order to complete our Council's good works. I am proud to have worked with many of you in the past and look forward to seeing not only the old faces, but to those we haven't seen for awhile to help us successfully carry out our Council's activities.

VIVAT JESUS

Gary Tircuit

Dep. Grand Knight

Brothers,

Summer is almost past already although the heat and humidity will stay with us for a while longer. As we prepare for the busier months of the year I should mention that we had one of our most successful Social Nights in recent years on July 16th. We had nearly as many at the social as we usually have for a Business Meeting. Along with all the work we do it is important to remember to have fun. Fraternity is one of the pillars of our Order and we should make the most of it. Coming on August 14th is our night at the Redbirds game, an opportunity for fun for the whole family.

Vivat Jesus!

Have you ever truly thought about how many Priests, Deacons, Nuns, Religious Brothers, Bishops, Cardinals, Popes, Lay Ministers, and Brother Knights have been aborted?

Often Padre Pio seemed to know aspects of the lives of his penitents which they tried to hide from him or even from themselves.

Albert Cardone first learned of Padre Pio in 1944, when he was eighteen, through the testimony of a neighbor, whose name he could not disclose because she may still have been alive at the time when he related the incident in March 1990: "She went to confession. Padre Pio, before giving her absolution, said, 'Try to remember the other sin.' The woman said, 'Padre, I think I gave you all the sins I know and I think this is it.' Padre Pio said, 'Then, for your penance, go to the cross to say fifteen Ave Marias and fifteen Our Fathers.' Now the cross was at the top of the mountain. The penance was not the Aves or the Our Fathers, it was the journey to get there, as it was a very bad road... So she did that and said the prayers and went back to Padre Pio for a second confession and Padre Pio asked, 'Do you remember all your sins?' She said, 'Padre Pio, I've confessed everything.' Padre Pio said, 'No, you still don't remember all. You've got to go to the cross at the top of the mountain again.'

She went for the second time and when she still did not remember he sent her for the third time to the cross on the mountaintop. When she returned for the third time for confession, Padre Pio asked, 'So, do you remember everything now?' She replied, 'No, Padre, I don't have anything more to confess.' Then Padre Pio said in a loud voice, 'What do you mean, you don't remember anything? Don't you know he could have been a good priest, a bishop, even a cardinal?' She started to think and then began to cry, 'Father,' she said, 'I never knew abortion was a sin.' 'What do you mean,' he said, 'you didn't know that this was a sin? That's killing.' Then she said, nobody knows about this, only me and my mother. How could you say it would have been a priest or a cardinal?' Padre Pio simply responded by saying, 'But it's a sin, a great sin.' "

The above is taken from the book "Padre Pio: The True Story" by C. Bernard Ruffin, Our Sunday Visitor Publishing Division, 1991.

Have you hugged your choice today?

Vivat Jesus,

Andy Deupree
